

Cultura e Tecnica per Energia Uomo e Ambiente

REHVA bandisce il REHVA Young Scientist Award 2014.

Le candidature devono pervenire in AiCARR all'indirizzo gabriellalichinchi@aicarr.org entro e non oltre le ore 12 del 23 novembre p.v.

Di seguito un estratto del bando.

REHVA AWARDS 2014 – Principles

REHVA YOUNG SCIENTIST AWARD

For outstanding research work: thesis, dissertation, or various shorter publications of similar importance, if taken together of young researchers on subjects covered by the fields of REHVA competence. The candidate shall be, maximum 35 years at the end of the year of application to the award.

A maximum of 3 REHVA young scientist awards can be granted each year with a maximum of one per country. The award recipient receives: a memorial plaque and honorariums which is defined annually by the AC. This award will be given during the REHVA Annual Meeting. In case of absence of the awardee, the award will be officially announced in the REHVA Annual Meeting but can be given in another event after REHVA board decision.

Content of the nomination

A CV of the candidate, giving at least the following information (when applicable):

- Date of the birth
- Education
- Present and former positions held
- Scientific, technical and professional society memberships and offices
- Academic and professional honours
- List of relevant publications, patents or industrial achievements within the fields of competence of REHVA